

THE PORTUGUESE ASSEMBLE.

A Large Mass Meeting Held at the Drill Shed Yesterday.

THE RESOLUTION THAT WAS ADOPTED.

Strong Pleas Against Chinese and Japanese Immigration—Several Speeches Made by Prominent Portuguese—An Attendance of a Little Over Four Hundred People.

Between 400 and 500 Portuguese assembled at the mass meeting at the drill shed yesterday. Most of the prominent Portuguese were present, and a number of citizens of other nationalities, who responded to the invitation of J. M. Camara at the Annexation Club Saturday evening. The chair was occupied by J. M. Vivas and J. M. Camara was secretary.

Mr. Vivas opened the meeting by stating that it had been called by the Portuguese League. He said there were less present than he had expected. He introduced M. A. Gonçalves to the meeting. The latter said that he had heard that it was reported that Dias' absence was intentional and that he had been paid to stay away. This was not so. Up to now this Government has been very considerate of the Portuguese and has treated them well. But they are threatened with Chinese and Japanese immigration. Both races are equally distasteful to us. If we don't stop this immigration what we are going to do? We shall starve to death. If it is necessary to carry a rifle to stop the Asiatic immigration, he hoped there was not a man there who would refuse.

J. M. Vivas, the speaker of the day, said substantially as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS: I am sorry that illness prevented Mr. P. A. Dias being present for to him had been assigned the task of discussing the Asiatic question, but I will try to carry out the programme of both of us.

As you all know there have been dissensions between us for these last six years, but on account of the necessity of uniting the Portuguese colony, we both have sacrificed our personal pride and feelings, to carry out what I have for such a long time been striving to accomplish—the unity of the Portuguese colony politically.

Gentlemen, I am happy to say that the false rumors circulated in regard to the objects of this meeting have not stopped you from assembling. The issue before us is, political union among us, support of the annexation cause and the Provisional Government, protest against interference in the administration of affairs by the Provisional Government would protect against all Asiatic emigration. (Applause.) And to carry out these important issues we must stand united and independent from any of the political faction who are making peremptory demands on the Provisional Government, and thereby embarrassing their progress in the administration of affairs. (Applause.)

Hoping that these resolutions will be adopted unanimously, I thank you gentlemen for your good behavior at this meeting.

A number of other speeches were made, all being strongly against the further admittance of Chinese and Japanese. After the speeches were ended, the chair introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

Whereas,—The sentiment of the Portuguese colony is unanimous in favor of the annexation of Hawaii to the United States of America;

Whereas,—The Provisional Government of the Hawaiian Islands was on the 17th day of January, 1893, created for the special purpose of attaining said annexation, and has not deviated from the proper course towards that end;

Whereas,—Certain divergencies existing amongst the members of the annexation party are highly prejudicial to the cause at which we aim, which divergencies are originated by premature demands;

Whereas,—The present situation of affairs may be dangerous to the general interests of the country at large, and any disturbance in the order of things might justify the prejudicial intervention of foreign powers;

Whereas,—The Provisional Government has within its power sufficient authority to stop all the Asiatic emigration, and being a fact that European labor is obtainable without difficulty; and

Whereas,—The increase of Asiatics is, not only prejudicial to the cause of annexation, but as well to the interests of the country at large and particularly to the numerous Portuguese colony with its large families; therefore in mass meeting assembled, we Portuguese residents resolve as follows:

Resolved,—That the Portuguese colony will use all means within its power to support and defend the Provisional Government, not only for the particular purpose for which it was created, but also will follow in any political transformation which circumstances may demand;

Resolved,—That we protest against any embarrassment that might disturb the progress of administration of the present Government, no matter from what source said embarrassment may emanate, and we propose that all shall peacefully wait the American Congress' decision on the pending question;

Resolved,—That we protest against the continuance of Asiatic emigration, defending the future attitude of the Portuguese colony upon the attitude of the governing power upon this Asiatic labor question;

Resolved,—That the Portuguese colony of Hawaii considering themselves organized as a party to affirm the general union of all our countrymen as well as in wishing to contribute in peace for the progress and prosperity of Hawaii, declare their intention to maintain themselves absolutely independent in all future manifestations of any kind.

DAVIES REPLIES.

He Comments On the Review of His Writings.

MR. EDITOR:—The "careful review" of my letters which absorbs so much of your valuable space this morning, was "prepared especially for the ADVERTISER." This much I gathered, not only from your announcement, but from the style of the article itself, and from the appropriate headings which were, I presume, supplied from your own stores.

I am rather puzzled to know who "W. N. A." is. I have a very dear friend with the same initials, but I know that he is at present engaged in reviewing his own speeches and trying to reconcile what he said with what he wishes he had said. Moreover, my W. N. A. has several of my letters still unanswered, and as they were written entirely in his own interest, he will probably review them before troubling himself with any others of mine.

I observe that your "W. N. A." has little respect for a man who works or votes in a minority, and I am bound to say that this tendency rather reminds me of my friend, who never likes to stand alone. I do not know that he ever tried. His brother did, and did it well.

I think, also, that I recognize some traits of my W. N. A. in that exuberant irrelevant jocosity of style with which your reviewer approaches anything like a serious topic; and the adjectives were especially suggestive of my friend's habits of thought. In fact, the only serious statement that your "W. N. A." makes is when he gives himself and you away by writing:

"With Mr. Davies' arguments and propositions we will not quarrel. For the purpose of this review, we shall assume that they are correct and cannot be gainsayed."

Did ever any such brilliant attack have such a collapse? And you had headed it so beautifully, with the words: "The literary performances of the champion exposed."

Exposed! why "W. N. A." has not even read the literary performances or he would have known that the one object for which I entered the lists was the defeat of annexation, by the preservation of Hawaiian independence.

Annexation is defeated, Hawaiian independence is preserved; why should I fight? If your "W. N. A." and my W. N. A. were to join together and shout till they were both hoarse, they would never persuade anyone that they represented the Hawaiian nation.

I fear, however, that dark days of perplexity await your reviewer. He must be with the majority, and at present it seems doubtful whether that passion will not land him in the camp of China, where "W. N. A." will stand for Wing No something, and he be found fighting against the very men whom at present he is vainly trying to bless.

Sir, I know that I only provoke the scoffs and jeers of the annexation press, when I speak solemnly of the Hawaiian situation; but once again I protest against the infatuation which leads men to play with a crisis which is apparently not only beyond their control, but beyond their appreciation.

I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
THEO. H. DAVIES.
Honolulu, Feb. 17, 1894.

CYCLONE YESTERDAY.

A Weather Forecast that was Justified by After Events.

(Meteorological Record, Feb. 18.)

NUUANU VALLEY, 10 A.M.—Barometer falling. Black belt in the sky, above valley. "Stolen kingdom" now being slowly spelled out on belt. Rumbling sound at "Craigside." Cyclonic letter portable. Families are advised to keep children, cats, dogs and chickens at home, and well out of path of storm center during early part of week. Cyclone will probably swing to the right and demolish Thurston's house in its descent. The P. G. should retire to its caves by 6 o'clock tonight with three days' provisions.

Feb. 18, 8 P.M.—The cyclone is on.

STOLEN JEWELS RECOVERED.

Gems Found in Arkansas That Were Purloined in Hawaii.

FORT SMITH (Ark.), Feb. 10.—Six of the 361 diamonds stolen at Honolulu have been recovered in this city by Chief of Police Surratt, who got them from Mrs. Hattie McGinnis, a sister of Preston Horner, alias George Ryan, the man convicted of stealing them. He sent the jewels here last September, but refused to tell to whom, until today it was discovered that Hattie McGinnis was his sister. This clue was worked up and the jewels recovered. They were sent to Honolulu.

House Washed Away.

Two Chinese shanties were washed away during a heavy freshet at Hana, Maui, last Wednesday night. When the occupants awoke, they found their sleeping apartments flooded with water. They only got out in time to save their lives, as a heavy freshet soon came down and demolished their huts. The water in the Hana and Hamoa streams is said to have risen a foot above the bridges but no serious damage was done to them by the flood.
